KNG Ironman Final – Live this Sunday

Shannon Eckstein start favourite to win his fifth Kellogg's Nutri-Grain Ironman title on Sunday at North Cronulla beach in Sydney – a feat achieved only by the great Zane Holmes. The 26-year-old from Northcliffe SLSC has won three of the four rounds this year and holds a six point buffer over Tugun's Hugh Dougherty and 14 points clear of Ky Hurst going into Sunday's final. Meanwhile the women's Series is one of the closest in years with three-time Coolangatta Gold winner Hayley Bateup chasing her maiden Ironwoman Series victory. Bateup leads the series on 74 points - just two points clear of reigning Coolangatta Gold winner and former Australian Ironwoman champion Alicia Marriott (72pts), with defending champion Naomi Flood next on 70 points. Catch the live Channel 7 broadcast on Sunday at 11.30am.

SAR Team – new members wanted for jetski and offshore rescue boat training

SLSNT operates a 24/7 Search & Rescue Team and they are in for a very exciting year with new Jetskis and a dedicated offshore rescue boat soon to be launched. If you have your SLSA Bronze Medallion and Certificate II in Public Safety and are interested in being part of the team please email your contact details to SLSNT on surf@lifesavingnt.com.au or call 8985 6588.

SLSNT to present two papers at National Water Safety Conference

Tony Snelling, Julie Snelling and Cameron Griffin will present two papers at the Australian Water Safety Conference in Sydney, 13-14 May. The topics, Lifesaving Training for Indigenous Youth and Risk Management at the Darwin Wave Lagoon, have fitted perfectly into the Conference themes and are great examples of how we are helping reduce drowning and aquatic injuries in the Top End.

Election of Office-Bearers – Are you ready to help write the next chapter?

Coaching & Officials Conference on the Gold Coast

The Monday before the Australian Championships, March 15th, is the date for the Annual SLSA Coaches & Officials Conference. The Conference is being held on the Gold Coast and will provide some of the best and latest information for our coaches and officials the day before the action gets underway on Kurrawa Beach. If you are interested in attending please contact Tony Snelling on 8985 6588 or email tony.snelling@lifesavingnt.com.au

Lifesaving Online – now used by 10,000 clubbies

Lifesaving Online allows club members to view and update their personal information on SurfGuard. This popular on-line service will also soon allow members to view their awards and expiry dates, patrol rosters and patrol hours. If you need help to get onto Lifesaving Online contact Julie Snelling on 8985 6588 or email julie.snelling@lifesavingnt.com.au

Westpac Community Arts Day supports Surf Life Saving

The Westpac branch in Darwin City is hosting ‘100 Things We Love about Darwin’, a community art exhibition on Monday 22 February, with all proceeds donated to Surf Life Saving. During the day everyone is encouraged to contribute artworks to the Art Exhibition by drawing and painting the things that are most important to them about Darwin. Artworks submitted will be entered into a competition and winners will be announced at a VIP Evening the next day. You are also welcome to submit artworks into the competition prior to Monday 22 February at the Darwin City branch, 24 Smith Street, the top of the Smith Street Mall in the city. Westpac’s support for Surf Life Saving is legendary. The bank’s 35 year support of our lifesaving services, including the famous Westpac Rescue Helicopters, has made corporate history as the longest major corporate partnership in Australian history.

Annual Surf Life Saving Conference Agenda

The agenda for SLSNT’s Annual Conference in Darwin, on Saturday 6th March and Sunday 7th March, will set the scene for the coming 2010 season and provide further definition to our 3 year plan. Highlights of the program include

- SLSA’s Coastal Safety Services Manager, Matthew Thompson, will provide a national perspective to our lifesaving and emergency service initiatives
- Major revamp of our sports calendar
- Offshore Rescue Boat – to commence this season!
- Launch of a dedicated phone number for 24/7 search and rescue callouts
- Update for trainers and assessors on new educational resources and assessment tools
- Update for coaches and officials on pool events

The Conference program has been distributed to clubs and is available from SLSNT by calling 8985 6588 or emailing surf@lifesavingnt.com.au. The Conference is free to members but registration is essential.
